

David Colten

College Student

Ages: 18 - 22

Gender: Male

Location: Davis, CA

Interests: biking, hiking, social events, traveling

Values: family, friends, education, active lifestyle

Goals: building relationships, graduate in four years, make new friends, keep in contact with family, help the environment

David is a first-year environmental science major. He likes to travel, go outdoors, and meet new people. Not only does he show interest in caring for the environment we live in, he really tries to care and show support for his friends. His first quarter at UC Davis has been fun, but it's also been stressful as he's trying to plan out his 4 years. He also notices that his dorm roommates have been having a long and difficult week where they ended up skipping 3 classes. David talked to his friend but didn't quite understand what they meant by their anxiety. Wanting to better understand his friend, he searched online to find out more about this topic.